Additional Information from Owner:

The property was granted in 1696 to Hugh MacGregory of Anne Arundel County who sold it 1743-45 (?) to John Baldwin of Kent County who built the present house and gave it as a wedding present to his daughter Catherine on her wedding in 1745 to George Milligan of Chester-town. The place was originally called "MacGregory Delight," later "Milligan Hall"; later (at least by 1780) "Bohemia." It passed from George to his son Robert who devised 1100 acres to his son George Baldwin who mortgaged it, and it then passed to Louis McLane of Wilmington who had married Mary Catherine Milligan. On his death it was sold (1861) piecemeal. The Home Farm and house was repurchased (1910) by his granddaughter, Catherine Milligan McLane, who left it in 1927 to her nephew, the present owner. So far as I know it was never a part of the Augustine Herman Manor.
